DAILY COURIER.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1858. Reading Matter on every page.

Party Allegiance. We publish this morning a communication from an esteemed friend upon the subject of party discipline. It is an able document on the author's side of the subject, and will be read with more than ordinary interest. Of course there are two sides to the question discussed, and upwards of a good deal can be said on both.

Those Democrats who leave their party upon the trail of thoughts or principles by which they are not unfrequently led into forbidden paths, and who then claim that their party has left them, now visible in our heavens were to say to the fixtheir regular orbits; that they ought to be eccentric, and roll about in elyptical spheres like itself; and that an erratic, wandering, indefinable course pursued by these fixed celestials, it would be a fair personification of some of the Democrats of the idea-school. Douglas, for instance, may be a Democrat, but he looks to the fixed Democracy more like a comet careering in an orbit too elyptical, uncertain and undefined, for a fixed and regular body. We see him now in his wanderings, but we can't say exactly when and where we shall see him again.

On the whole, ideas are good things, but the thought which cannot be favorably impressed upon the man of his own party by the man who is great enough to think it, may not be infallible. The ninker may be wrong, and when he sees, after a fair trial, that two to one of his own party are against him, he had better think again. Douglas, or instance, on the Kansas question, thought diferent from a Democratic President, an united Democratic cabinet, an unbroken Democratic Southern delegation, and a majority of Northern Democrats in Congress. He was not able to make these Democrats think that the idea upon which he radiated from his party was right, for in spite of all his efforts they considered that thought decidedly nore Black Republican than Democratic. They udged thus from the fact that all the Black Reblicans thought just as Douglas did. It would have been well, therefore, for Douglas not to have one off on this idea, but to have taken a second thought, and come to the very sensible conclusion that so many united Democratic heads were wiser than his, and that he might therefore be wrong.

A MARKED EVENT OF THE AGE .- We have aleady briefly paragraphed the arrival at St. Louis of the first overland mail from the shores of the Pacific. So important an event deserves more than a mere mention at the hands of the journalist, and we wonder that our neighbors of the great Western metropolis did not signalize so eventful an era in the history of that city, by more significant demonstrations. But perhaps it is etter that they should thus quietly enjoy the pening of so important a line of communica-

We have not chronicled for years an occurrence of such consequence—one that is destined to operate so powerfully upon the development of the vast resources of our yet unexplored Western domain. It is infinitely more important than the laying of the Atlantic cable, stupendous as was pay particular attention to myself, and deliver that achievement of science. Its results are yet n the womb of futurity, but it does not require the eye of any seer to look into the years to come, and unfold the wonders and glories that must flow from the enterprise.

Indeed, this is the first practical step toward the accomplishment of that greatest of possible achievements-the construction of the Pacific railroad. It demonstrates the entire practicability of that enterprise, which so many have oubted. There can be no longer any skeptic upon this subject. Wherever a stage can run, scientific engineers can find a grade for the passage locomotives and trains. The railroad must ollow. It is a natural and necessary sequence. The completion of so grand a work is now but a uestion of time. But it cannot long be delayed. When once the tide of trade and travel has set cross the plains, as now it certainly will, the deand for increased facilities will be so great as to orce the building of the railway. We have only o wait for the natural development of what the wants of the age require. And these requireents cannot be forestalled or postponed.

The course of commerce will then be wholly engaged. Over our broad prairies, and through our mountain passes, the wealth of the Indies. the products of the tropics, and the golden sands of our own Pacific dominions, will be transported. We shall see the ocean and its dangers deserted or the more secure transportation of land car-

In whatever light we chose to regard this openng of the mail route hence to the Pacific, it is a nomentous triumph. Alone and beyond all thers in present importance, and its relations to he future glory and honor of the republic, must be considered. Not merely as an opening vedge to the development of the hidden wealth of our vast occidental possessions does it possess significance. It has higher claims upon our re spect and consideration. It is another and a noler stride forward in the mighty advance of civilization and Christianity. It is a grand step toward the consolidation of our union in bonds that no anarchist can dissever. As such, every patriot and Christian should rejoice over so auspicious an event as that which we chronicle in detail this morning.

Love's Dorngs .- The jolly god, Cupid, is constantly being the cause of some occurrence promotive of social gossip and piquant paragraphs. On Sunday evening he was so obliging as to dispatch, by the night train, a young Main street clerk and the blooming daughter of a well known itizen. On matrimony intent, they mysteriously disappeared in a railway carriage, and ere this are doubtless what all true lovers should be-man and wife. We understand that the employers of the young gentleman are not particularly concerned at his absence, since he is under such safe convoy. The absence of the young lady from the Louisville Hotel is, however, a matter of regret to not a few friends and admirers.

The Journal of yesterday, in order to make a point, publishes what purports to be a letter rom J. Cook, Postmaster at Chicago, dated April 26th, urging the friends of the Administration in llinois to vote for Republican candidates for the Legislature, in order to defeat Douglas. Now, if the editor of the Journal did not know that this extract is a base forgery, he displays an inexcusable ignorance. The editor has read his Chicago exchanges with little care, if he has not learned that this forgery was perpetrated months ago, by the Douglas editor of the Times, in that city, and who, for perpetrating it, was publicly posted and branded as "a mean and dishonorable liar!"

THEATER.-The play of Sybil drew a large audience last night, but of course by no means so arge as the immense crowd on Saturday night who witnessed the same drama. The play is peculiarly calculated to develop the remarkable dramatic talent of Miss Jones, and she personates Sybil with vigor and decided effect .-Sybil will be repeated to night, with the admired comedy of "Love in Humble Life," as the afterpiece. Those whom the unpropitious weather of last evening prevented from attending, will improve the opportunity this evening.

The dry goods store of A. H. Lathrop, Carcollton, Ky., was broken into Saturday night last, and robbed of a large and very valuable quantity of silks and other dress goods. The safe was re moved to the bank of the river and opened, the burglars taking $100 in money—the papers they were considerate enough not to disturb.

We call the special attention of our city and country grocers to Mr. C. C. Spencer's sale this morning, at his auction rooms, of 25 hogsheads and 10 bbls Louisiana sugar, tobacco, cigars, fish, and liquor, with other articles in the grocery CHARGED WITH FELONY .--- Michael Myers was

As already announced in the Courier, Wm. L. Kelly, Esq., is to deliver the valedictory address.

One of the essentials to a sound mind in a sound body, is the perfect freedom of the feet from damp and exposure. More sickness probably arises from neglect to care for the extremities of the body than any other cause. Consumption and kindred complaints arise from the want of comfortable shoe eather. LETTER FROM THE CORPORAL

[Correspondence of the Louisville Courier.] Trip to Louisville-Mechanics Fair-Harris Pictures-Boquet Venders, etc., etc. LEXINGTON, Sept. 30, 1858.

Editors Louisville Courier :- For three or four reeks the papers from your city have come to me eming with accounts of the unusually fine time ou were all having in the amusement line. I reated myself daily to some one of the many in teresting places, as a starying man treats himsely to a fine dinner-in imagination. This was a heap way to pass off the time, and answered reparkably well for awhile, but like a dead-head at the theater, I began to tire of the scene and wanted something real. I soon packed up and placed myself under the charge of Capt. Pennoyer, with umerous injunctions to the aforesaid officer to ne safe and sound at the Galt House. Supper having been dispatched, the aid of a parber was invoked, to render me presentable, to wash my face, and smooth my "auburn locks divine." The knight of the razor having discharged his duty, I put on my ruffles, procured a cigar from "Sam Jones," and feeling nice and good, I was disposed to speak to everybody; in fact, I felt somewhat like the grand Turk, as he strokes his chin complacently after having done something his chin complacently after having done something wonderful. In this happy mood, I strolled out to the Mechanics' Institute, and entered. What a glorious sight greeted me! If I had given away to my imagination, I could easily have fancied that the genii of Alladin's Lamp had been called in to give an Oriental magnificence to the scene. Ladies, handsome as Mahomet's dark-eyed houris, nd a million times more fascinating, threading heir way through the throng, bewildering a per-on with their bright eyes and sweet smiles; galson with their oright eyes and sweet smiles, gal-lant men doing the agreeable to the crinolined divinities at their side, and laughing, romping, merry children, playing hide-and-seek behind the patent skeletons. But I am talking about things am unacquainted with. It was a magnificent ight, and well worth a trip from Lexington to inness. Henceforth, consider me in whenever of these. Henceforth, consider me in whenever the Mechanics' Institute commences its fairs.

There were so many interesting objects, each temanding and meriting as much time as I had to give to the whole, I, of course, could not examine very closely, but I must mention Harris' ection of pictures, because they were certainly imens of the art I ever saw. xecution of the pictures he has on exhibition re perfect, I think, at any rate. I never saw any equal them. Mr. Harris deserves great credit or the skill he dis played, and I feel that in Louis tille, where merit is rewarded, he will be suitable oticed. He should have the crown; give it to While promenading about the hall with rinoline belle at my side, I was annoyed at vari-us times by dirty-faced, knee-patched urchins to buy a boquet—"only one dollar." Now, Messrs. Editors, I only had about one dollar loose about ny clothes, and friend Bauer got half that amount for admission tickets, paid two bits for ice-cream, and had a quarter left to "smile on." I hope the managers of the Mechanics' fair will abolish the system of boquet hucksters entering the hall. If Charles and Flora wish the delicately perfumed ricks, they should give their orders to a nursery The display of Louisville manufactures was creditable in the highest degree to their various exhibitors. Louisville, in the industrial branches, can compare with her larger sister cities, and although her manufactories may not be as large, the work turned out by them will show favorably with the display of other places which are farther. with the display of other places which are farther dvanced. I noticed a good many gentlement or seen from the North, and they expressed them. elves agreeably surprised at the rapid advance-tion and by Louisville artisans in their various epartments. I observed one thing in parilar, and that was, that those mechanics and perchants who advertised regularly in the courier had the finest and most attractive displays. The reason is plain; their outlay for divertising brings them in an income which enables them to show off, to a greater advantage, their goods, than those who trust to fortune to bring them a good paying customer.

After remaining a couple of hours, I was compelled, most reluctantly, to tear myself from the attractive scene. I could have remained there and gazed at the panorama of loveliness and chivalry that was continually passing; but I am mortal and though it is not poetical. I must say I was tal, and though it is not poetical, I must say I was growing decidedly hungry. With a sigh I started for the door, and, as I went down street, mentally plessed the Institute.

CORPORAL

Narrow Escape at the Falls The Niagara Falls Gazette tells a thrilling story of the escape of C. J. Thomas, of that village, from destruction, during the terrible storm of Thursday last. He was alone in a light row-boat, crossing from Navy Island to Schlosser, when the storm came up. His boat capsized, and for an hour or more he was driven by the wind, clinging hour or more he was driven by the wind, clinging to the boat. He succeeded several times in righting the boat, when it would immediately fill and again capsize. He gave himself up for lost several times, but continued his exertions. Being a good swimmer, he succeeded in retaining the boat, and finally got into it, but without his oars, and so chilled as to be unable to help himself. The boat was nearly full of water, and drifted before the wind past the head of Navy Island into the strong current on the opposite side, that bore him swiftly toward the cataract. Fortunately, Mr. Samuel Tompkins and another man happened to be on the island, and observed him. They hastened to his rescue, but the waves ran so high that they his rescue, but the waves ran so high that they could do nothing more than tow him to Chippewa creek, on the Canada side. Mr. Thomas was so chilled, as we have stated, that he could not help chilled, as we have stated, that he could not help himself, and he would doubtless have gone over the Falls, had not assistance been close at hand. He lost his gun, hat, and whatever else was in the boat, and came very near perishing. He states that when the storm reached him, the cloud seemed no more than twenty or thirty feet above him, and the water was carried in sheets entirely CRUEL MURDER .- A correspondent of the Maysville Eagle, writing from Cabin Creek, Lewis counville Eagle, writing from Cabin Creek, Lewis county, gives the following account of a cruel murder:

A murder and robbery was cammitted in this county a few days since, the circumstances of which as I learned them were these: A peddler who had for some time past been canvassing the county selling jewelry and dry goods, was found concealed on Quick's Run between some logs, apparently murdered and beaten in a most horrible and cruel manner. It is generally believed that the perpetrators of this brutal outrage, supposed that he had a considerable sum of money about his person, and this together with the few articles of merchandise that he possessed induced them to fall upon and stone him to death. The murderers as yet are unknown.

AMERICAN VIOTORY AT TORONTO.—A great yacht race came off at Toronto, Canada, on Friday of last week, for a prize of 240 dollars, in which vessels from all parts of Canada and from the American shore on Lake Ontario participated.—

MARION RIFLES ATTENTION.—You are particular-

[For the Louisville Courier.] Party Discipline.

Editors Louisville Courier : A doctrine of party discipline has been promulgated by some leading Democratic journals, of late, which in my judgment is founded in error, and which, if enforced is destined to produce consequences of the most disastrous character. I allude to the position assumed by some of our partizan presses, that those Democrats who took ground against the President's Lecompton policy, by that act forfeited their membership in the party, and are to be treated as deserters from the Democratic camp. As a Democrat, who claims his membership in the party by right of his birth, and who holds it as his proudest heritage, I ask the privilege of submitting, through your columns, some observaions on this novel and startling proposition. I may as well here remark, further, that while I felt constrained, upon my convictions, to dissent from the views of those who advocated the admission of Kansas under the Locompton constitution, I have yet most heartily concurred in every other measure of the present Administration, and that regard it as statesmanlike and soundly Democratic.

The simple question then is: am I, (taking one example for an illustration,) whose political creed is drawn from the teachings of Jefferson, and Madison, and Polk, to be ostracised because I am conscientiously convinced that Congress should have rejected the Lecompton constitution? This question has been made, and is being pressed in some quarters with great pertinacity. It is of serious import, for it involves the integrity of the national Democratic party. Therefore it behoves every earnest and loyal member of the party to consider it with the attention and candor which is due to the vital consequences that must follow a may be seen some beautiful specimens of carvdue to the vital consequences that must follow a mistaken solution of it.

I hold this general proposition as correct, (and it comprehends the whole issue) that a Democrat owes allegiance to principle only; and, therefore, that a Democratic President has no claim on the support of the party, except in questions embracing some Democratic principle, either traditional or engrossed in a national platform of the party. Upon any other issue, no rule of party discipline requires, and truth and hoper forbid a discipline requires, and truth and honor forbid, a blind concurrence in whatever may happen to be the views of the President. The truth of this is apparent, not only on the naked statement of the apparent, not only on the baked statement of the proposition, but is sustained by the history of our party from its foundation. Indeed, Mr. Buchanan's administration, though it has extended through but one session of Congress, affords a striking illustration in point, for it is an admitted fact that not one of the measures particularly favored by the administration has because its property of the property of the striking in th vored by the administration has been carried through Congress, except by the aid of the oppo-sition, and against the strenuous efforts of some ding and trusted Democrats. It is remember ed how indignantly some Southern leaders, in and out of Congress, denounced the course of the President towards Gen. Walker, how other Demcrats opposed the deficiency bill, and how others et, indulged in tirade and phillipic against the lleged extravagance of the administration.

tion was under discussion in Congress. Mr. Cal-houn took strong ground in opposition to Mr. Polk's policy on the question; recommended in his message to Congress, and as expounded and advocated by his friends in both Houses. Mr. Calhoun had then been for forty years the most prominent State's Right Democrat in the Union. Mr. Polk was profoundly solicitous for the settle-ment of the question upon the basis advocated in his message, and he enforced his views in a numher of State papers, which will stand out as land-marks in the archives of the Republic. No doubt marks in the archives of the Republic. No doubt he and his friends regretted deeply the opposition of Mr. Calhoun, but that profound statesman, that pure patriot, that most orthodox Democrat recognising the right—nay, the propriety where there was an honest difference of opinion, of divided sentiment among the members of the party's respected the high honor, devoted patriotism of the South Carolina statesman to the last Mr. Calbour uth Carolina statesman to the last. Mr. Calhoun, t is true, was assailed by some Democratic pa-pers, and the notorious Col. Benton, with character-stic effrontery, assuming a mendacious championship of the measure, issued bulls of party excom-munication against him. This was the same Ben-ton, who a few years later turned Abolitionist, and egan an indiscriminate but futile war on the ocrats and Democracy; and that was the me Calhoun, who after a long life he service of his country fell, "in battle harness at the head of the Democratic column. But the most memorable period for domestic differences the party was nearly twenty years earlier than ing General Jackson's adi The State's rights doctrine, which at last is the staple of all genuine Democracy, was then brought to a severe test. General Jackson's celeorated "proclamation" startled the entire party.

It was thought by many to be a radical departure

rom the settled principles taught by Madison and lefferson. Of these were Calhoun, McDuffie, Hayne, Hamilton, and others, names which we are layne, Hamilton, and others, names which how proud to appropriate as our pecu-iar glory. In both houses of Congress these llustrious men and many equally illustrious ompers, taking decided ground against the administration, disputed its measures inch by nch, with a warmth and determination of opposition scarcely ever equalled in any parliamentar ontest. Against these men, and arrayed on the side of the Administration, were Webster, J. Q. Adams, Frelingbysen, and all that school of poli-ticians, whose history is but a record of life-long nd unabated warfare on the Democratic party and unabated warfare on the Democratic party.—
The principle involved in this question was and is the very keystone of Democracy. The greatest and most honored members of the party differed on it and went to war about it, and yet their mames are associated together in all that is glorius and honorable in that era of our party histo-

y. You could not easily convince Democrats on his day, and especially us at the South, that Mc-Duffee, and Hayne, and Calboun were not Democrats as true and devoted as Gen. Jackson himself. Let me mention another instance: Mr. Ritchie, of the Richmond Enquirer, was for forty years the editorial oracle of our party. He said of Gen. Jackson: "Such a man is not qualified for our Chief Magistrate; he is too little of a statesman-too rash-too violent in his temper; his mea sures too much inclined to arbitrary government to obtain the humble support of the editors of this paper. Yet Mr. Ritchie was chosen by Mr. Polk regarded as having been a consistent and he is now regarded as having been a consistent and orthodox Democrat throughout his long political career. How did these men, supposing that their opposition to administration measures threw them out of the pale of the party, get back into the fold and resume their high places among its leaders? and resume their high places among its leaders? It is now said by some magnanimous journalists, that the anti-Lecompton Democrats may come back by recanting the opinions on that measure, confessing "their evil behavior, renewing their vows of allegiance, and taking, not their old seats of honor, but the humblest place in the rank and file of the party." Did Hayne and Ritchie do this? Did Calhoun lower his crest, and bow his imperial head, at the ridiculous mandate of a few prigmy editors. The American people decided pigmy editors. The American people decided who was right; whether these men were Demo-crats or not, and that decision is now Democratic history. Let the present generation of self-con-stituted judges and arbiters of party membership profit by the lesson which it teaches.

The merits of what is called the Lecompton question, have been fully discussed and are familiar to every reader of the newspapers. It is known that Mr. Buchanan appointed Robert J. Walker, Governor of Kansas, and that previous to the assembling of the convention at Lecompton, Walker declared in a public address to the voters of the Tarritory that the Constitution should be able. declared in a public address to the voters of the Territory, that the Constitution should be submitted to a vote of the people. This was not done, and the President in his message to Congress, while he expressed a preference that the whole instrument should have been submitted, yet urged Congress to accept the constitution. He took the ground that the submission of the slavery clause was a virtual submission of the whole instrument, incompand as that was the only cause of division. was 2 virtual submission of the whole instrument, inasmuch as that was the only cause of division among the people. He further urged the admission, as the quickest and surest means of localizing, and therefore terminating, the long continued agitation in the country, growing out of Kansas affairs. The acceptance of this constitution was opposed and protested against by citizens of Kan-sas on several grounds; among others, because the convention had no authority to act, for the reason that no enabling act had been passed by Congress; because the convention had failed to allow the people to vote on the constitution after it had been framed; because the constitution was repugnant to the majority of the citizens of the territory, and because—all these objections aside—the elections, besides being without authority were so fraudulently conducted as by that act alone, to vitiate the action of the convention. This raised an issue which called forth a protracted and able the best in both buyers of Courses. debate in both houses of Congress. leading Democrats took ground against the admission of Kansas under that constitution.—
They, however, gave to the other measures of the mission of Kansas under that constitution.—
They, however, gave to the other measures of the administration, the most hearty and efficient support. For better or for worse, the question was sinally disposed of, and Congress adjourned. The representatives of the people returned to their respective homes, and some of them became candidates for re-election. Among others, Senator Douglas, of Illinois, whose term expires with the present Congress, and whose place is to be filled by the Legislature chosen at the election this fall, in that State, found on his return home, the utmost activity on the part of the Republican party to secure a majority of that party in the Legislature, and thereby insure the election of one of their number in his place. Their champion and the proposed successor of Douglas, Mr. Lincoln, was actively engaged in the Legislative canvas, and Douglas at once entered the field against him.—The fight was commenced by Douglas, and has been carried on by him with even more than his usual ability and boldness, and upon strict and most orthodox Democratic ground. His opponent, on the contrary, is an avowed Black Republicien, who is making the race as such, upon the the defeat of Douglas. A prefrence for Lincoln's election over Douglas is daily avowed, and the defeat of the latter at all hazards, is urged as a Democratic measure. This seems strange; indeed, incomprehensible on the bare statement; but reaincomprehensible on the bare statement; but reasons are not wanting. What are they? Why, the new test of Democracy, the modern retort and crucible in which party loyalty is refined, proves that Douglas is not a Democrat. I cannot, gentlemen, conceive a more pertinent instance to illustrate the wrong mindedness of this heresy, than this one. Here is a man who has been for more than twenty years in the service of the Democratic party; a man born and reared in the heart of Abolition fanaticism, and choosing as the home. cratic party; a man born and reared in the heart of Abolition fanaticism, and choosing as the home of his manhood, a free State, and yet in all and through all, maintaining the utmost ground claimed by the South, in favor of the institution of slavery, rising step by step from an obscure school teacher to the most prominent place in the leadership of the party in the republic; yet never at any time departing a hair's breadth from the most orthodox Democratic creed—leading on and swaying the public opinion of the country always in orthodox Democratic creed—leading on and sway-ing the public opinion of the country, always in the same direction, guided by the same charts, and aiming at the same ends—this man is suddenly denounced as a traitor to his party, and worse, nd all because he has differed with the Presiden and all because he has differed with the President on the question of fact—whether the Lecompton constitution was the will of the people of Kansas. Why, this is a question on which two Democrats may as easily differ, and both remain faithful and true to their party and their principles, as though the question were one of theology. You may exhaust on it the fountains of metaphisics, and weave over it the web of whatever subtlety and refinement, you can make of it nothing that could touch a cardinal principle of the party. If this makes Mr. Douglas not a Democrat, then is the camp of the party in the South filled with such enemies, and woe betide it in the hour of battle. Democracy is not favoritism of any man. It is emocracy is not favoritism of any man. It is insistant and rational adherance to principle on rinciple. Be the logical truth of the proposition that it may, these north-western Democrats are what it may, these north-western Democrats are convinced that Lecomptonism is wrong. The measure, if it could have been carried, could have done us no good. It established no principle for which we contended. These men are life-long, tried and proven friends of ours. They have fought our battles—nay, Douglas has led us on when every element of opposition. element of opposition, North and South, was ar-ayed in angry warfare against us; and even now, while some Southern editors are denouncing and be-crying him, he is steadily, faithfully—with

But, gentlemen, suppose these pretended friends But, gentlemen, suppose these pretended friends of the administration should succeed in defeating Douglas and thereby insure the election of his opponent, what result do they promise to the party? Is it likely that the administration will be strengthened by it, or that the Democratic party will receive any benefit from it. I am convinced to the contrary. Almost daily some new development transpires of dissatisfaction in the South, with the course pursued by the Washington Union and a few other journals toward Judge Douglas.

These were great measures and leading ones, and if this modern test of party membership to which I have alluded, were applied to those gentlemen, the sentence of banishment would sweep off the flower of the party, and our greatest and truest leaders would be exiles.

In 1546-7 the celebrated Oregon boundary question was under discussion in Congress Mr. Callon was a same against the unnatural and suicidal deed. knightly champion of Southern Democracy crys out shame against the unnatural and suicidal deed. These are pregnant indications. As long as we renain united and true to the principles of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, ignoring all personal quar-els between members of the party, and sustain-ng all who are faithful to Democratic principles, e are invincible against any party which can be ganized against us. But if this "test" is pressed ome, and the Anti-Lecompton Democracy refused neir places in the party, North and South the will split asunder, and defeat will be cer-ain. If these men, in the prostituted name of the tain. If these men, in the prostituted name of the Administration, extend the hand of executive influence into the Illinois elections, and place Lincoln in the seat of Douglas, the Administration, I greatly fear, will lose its influence North and South, and for the rest of the term remain power. outh, and for the rest of the term remain pow-rless for all the good it might do, and which it ill do if its infatuated friends do not hurl it to

Much as we had heard of the exceeding beauty and fitness of the location selected as the site of our city water works, we entertained no correct idea of the taste and judgment that has been displayed by the managers of this enterprise, until a few days since. We visited the grounds of the company on Saturday, and were both astonished and delighted at the wisdom, foresight, and enterprise that has marked every step of this great

The water works are located three miles and a half from the court house, and a few feet over a mile beyond the corporation line. It is well known that the property was purchased at a great bargain, payable in city bonds at par. The reservoir is situated upon an elevated bluff, whence one of the finest views in the country is to be had. The country is to be a country is to be a country in the chiefs entered him camp with a flag of truce; they represented themselves and their people as friendly. But an Indian who was with Garnett's command reported that among these Indians were four who were in the fight against Robinson, and that the chiefs had lied when they said all in their camp were friendly. This induced was a country in the chiefs and the chiefs are command. Ohio river winds in front, and is visible for more than twenty miles. Beyond are the forests and plains and knobs of Indiana, now rapidly asbeautiful city, and the adjoining suburbs, a perfect picture is presented. Thus the scene is varied and comprehensive-containing all varieties and peculiarities of landscape, affording reervoir is now about one-third completed. It is an immense undertaking, and has thus far been osecuted with wonderful energy and success, by Mr. W. P. Hahn, the contractor. First, it was necessary to clear away the heavy woods, and level the earth. Then the ground which was seamed and full of openings, had to be filled with made earth and grouted, This was a work of great labor, but no obstacles have prevented its rapid progress. The pipes are already laid from the river to the reservoir, the stop gates upon the main and drain pipes having been placed in last Saturday. The reservoir is divided into two sections, so that one may be cleaned without interfering with the constant supply of water. Ten million gallons is the capacity of this immense

About midway the distance, a beautiful fountain is to be erected, and near by a lake is to be prepared, which will be handsomely bordered with trees and shrubs. At the river, the engine house is now being built. Within the next two weeks, the masonry will be completed. This is of the most durable character, the walls being fourteen feet in thickness. Mr. Hahn is pushing this work forward with a large force. The second engineer of the company, Mr. Hemiway, gives his personal superintendence to this work, so that its character for solidity is insured. Two Cornish engines have been contracted for, and are now being built at the foundry of Roach & Long. They are to cost ninety thousand dollars, to be of immense size. and will throw eight hundred gallons of water

Under the prudent and careful management of Mr. Alfred Harris, the able President of the Water Works Company, the enterprise has thus far progressed without a balk. The future is bright for its continued success. Indeed, there is every reason to believe that hereafter no obstacle of any description will be thrown in the way of the progress of this work. It progressed through the terrible financial crisis, owing to the skillful financiering of Mr. Harris, and now with ample means and the confidence of the public there is an assured guarantee of prosperity. The drive to the water works is through a beau tiful shaded avenue that has been opened by the company. Indeed, the hand of skill and taste is manifested in everything connected with this enterprise. Happily for the people, the managers of so vital an institution are not mere utilitarians. They have eyes for the beautiful and lovely in nature, and a proper appreciation of the necessity of art assisting in the development of what nature has so beautifully vouchsafed us. Their economy and prudence is likewise commendable. Nothing is wasted, for the officers have the good sense te render everything useful or ornamental.

Another feature of this enterprise must certainly commend it to our people. Everything connected with the water works is of home manufacture. The vast sums of money expended in their erection are disbursed in the city of Louisville. Our mechanics, and manufacturers, and merchants, thus profit in no small degree by the improvement. The pipe is manufactured at the Locomotive Works by Hutchings & Hilton, and the en gines by Roach & Long.

LATER FROM OREGON—ARRIVAL OF THE OREGON.

The steamship Oregon, Capt. Patterson, arrived n port on the 11th, at 8 o'clock, with dates from Portland to the 8th inst., five days later than pre-ANOTHER INDIAN FIGHT .- Gen. Clarke informs us that Major Garnett, with his command, has had another brush with the Indians on the Okanagan. Six of them were killed, all of whom participated in the attack on Robinson's party. The Indians in that part of the country have become alarmed at the summary measures of Major Gar-nett, and it is believed that most of them have retreated to the British possessions of the Black-feet country. No confirmation of the reported disaster having been received, the General comnanding thinks the whole affair an Indian story.

The Battle with the Indians.—We have the tatement that the circumstances connected with the killing of Lieut. Allen, were somewhat as follows: There is a division among the tribes west of the Columbia river relative to fighting the troops. Some desire to fight, and others wish to make peace. Ouhi and Qualchien decided to remain hostile, while Cothaute and Choshosekan, with their families, were for peace. The latter separated from the hostiles, and, taking with them their families, were proceeding towards Simcoe. They met Major Garnett's command, and the chiefs entered his camp with a flag of truce;

Accordingly, about three o'clock on the morning of the 15th, he, with one or two of his men, went into the Indian camp, while the remainder were stationed in readiness to fire at the first signal of At the discharge of his gun the whole camp was aroused, and Allen's men fired indiscriminately into the camp, one shot taking effect in the body of Allen, from which he afterwards died. The Indians are reported to have not fired at all. They were all taken prisoners, and the four who were in the fight with Mr. Robinson were shot, and the remainder set at liberty.—Portland Standard,

> Mr. Lot Cannell, of Columbia, Toulumme county, who came a passenger on the Pacific from Portland, via. Victoria, furnishes us with the following statement:

He left the Dalles on the 24th inst., and just before he started, a Government expressman arrived at Fort Simcoe (pronounce Sim co-ay) with news that Major Robinson's party, on the way to Third, Louisville, Ky. Frazer river, had been attacked, on the Wenatshe river, by a large party of Indians. The fight had lasted four days, Robinson losing one man and ten pack animals, and the fighting was still going on when an expressman was sent to Fort Sincoe with the news, and immediately after his arrival there, the government express was sent thence t the Dalles. At the time the express was sent thence to the Dalles. At the time the expressman left, Robinson and the Indians were on opposite sides of the river, but Robinson was preparing to cross over and attack them. Good diggings had been found on the Wenatshe. The white man who was killed was shot with a small stone.

Six hundred soldiers had been ordered and having come in previously—that the party of Gen. Palmer had all been massacred on the East of the Columbia, near the Okanagan. General Palmer had neteen wagons in his train and several hundred pack animals. The rumored massacre was credited at the Dalles; and the Portland Standard says it is probably true. [From the Alta Callfornia, 14th.] THE CONTINENTAL TELEGRAPH.

Our Placerville correspondent announces the pleasing intelligence that the work of constructing the telegraph from that place to Salt Lake City has been commenced in earnest. The day of its initiation is destined to form an epoch for California. The work will go on, and will be mighty for good. The summit of the Sierra Nevada and the shore of this Pacific, will, in a few weeks, throb with the same pulse; the same emotions will thrill through themat the same moment. rill through themat the same moment. Soon Salt Lake City will be united to us by the same bond, annihilating time and distance. And then we cannot long remain without telegraphic communication between Salt Lake City and St. Louis. Already, as we hope, New York and London have been made one by the submarine wire, which will not only in them together but. which will not only tie them together, but serve as a vein through which the life-blood of each shall pour into the heart of the other. Then we, too, shall share in the blessings of the great enterprise. Not long can we remain beyond the reach of the central wires. We shall be joined not to New York only but to London to the contral wires.

New York only, but to London, to the remotes East. Welcome the day.
FRAZER RIVER NEWS.—The Sea Bird and Wilson G. Hunt arrived on Saturday in Victoria from Frazer river, but brought no news of special interest. The river still continued high, and the miners were still waiting for the water to fall.—Nothing had been heard of Governor Douglas' roceedings.

The Feeling in Victoria.—The depression still continues in Victoria. Merchandise is selling at very low prices. Merchants can be seen in all the streets, in front of their stores, wearing very gloomy faces, and watching in vain for customers. There is nevertheless a considerable degree of confidence that the mines will prove ultimately rich, though many doubt whether they will be able to sustain themselves until the day of prosperite.

EXPORTATION OF LUNATICS.-The Liverpool Select Vestry announces that ninety-nine poor de-mented creatures had arrived in this city from mented creatures had arrived in this city from New York, by two vessels, and as they are help lessly insane and penniless, have to be supported at the public expense. Who sent them across the Atlantic? Who paid their passage? Where did they come from? Was their exportation a private speculation, or a piece of public duplicity?

VGUE AND FEVER, OR CHILLS AND FEVER, SPEEDILY CURED BY

IllE attention of dealers in Drugs and Medicines, and persons afflicted with Chills and Fever, or Ague and Fever, or Ague and Fever, is respectfully invited to this celebrated medicine, which has justly obtained a high reputation throughout the country, and for many years has maintained its superiority over all other remedies, as a safe, certain, speedy, and permanent cure for Chilis and Fever.

The public may rely upon the fact that it is entirely vegetable in its composition, and made from the best, purest, carefully selected reliable articles, and is always prepared by the proprietor in person, and, therefore, he can warrant it uniform in quality.

pulnine, and other remedies, as a general and popular transforms, as a conter remedies, but may be given in all cases, and under all circumstances whatever, to Females, Infants, and all persons who are debilitated, or have the most delicate constitutions, without the least apprehension of any injurious or even unpleasant effects.

Practitioners of medicine who have not prescribed it, and afflicted persons who have not used it, are respectfully invited to give it but a fair trial, and they will then be convinced of its great superiority over other remedies and that it possesses all the virtues claimed for it.

It is not only perfectly safe and innocent in its effect, but in no case whatever has it been known to fall in curing Chills and Fever, or Ague and Fever, whether of short or long standing, if the directions were strictly followed and carried out.

Chills and Fever, or Ague and Fever, whether of short or long standing, if the directions were strictly followed and carried out.

This medicine has become a staple remedy, and for years has been extensively used throughout the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas. Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Chio, Indicans, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and California, and more lately in Kansas Territory, and has permanently cured near 2,000,000 of cases in all its varied forms and conditions, many of which were from one to three years standina, and had resisted all the usual remedies known in the country, and in no case did it fail to make a perfect and permanent cure where the directions were properly followed. Such is invariable success that it has gained the confidence, favor, and patronage of a large number of respectable practitioners of medicine throughout the country, who prescribe and administer it in preference to Quinine and other remedies.

Persons living in districts of country subject to Chills and Fever, Ague and Fever, or Billious Fever, would do well to keep a constant supply of this invaluable remedy always on hand.

The proprietor has in his possession a large number of certificates and other testimonials from persons who have used this medicine, as well as from Physicians, Druggists, Apothecaries, and other dealers in medicine, attesting its superior virtues as a curative in Chills and Fever, and he could obtain many thousands more, or enough to fill a large volume, but does not deem it necessary, as it is already extensively and favorably known to the public generally.

HAINES BROTHERS

THE BEST PIANOS BY 25 PER CENT,

UNITED STATES! TRIPP & CRAGG, NO. 109 FOURTH STREET, LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY,

Sole Agents for Kentucky and Indiana. NUNNS & CLARK'S Improved New Scale Pianos are so well and favorably known in this market, and throughout the whole country, to be SUPERIOR in touch, tone, and durability, and they speak so well for themselves, that they need no word of commendation from any one.

HAINES BROTHERS' PIANOS

are new Pianos in this market, but they are well known in many sections of the country as an A No. 1 instrument. Competent judges who have tried them pronounce them fully equal, if not superior, to the Steinsway & Son's Pianos. They are a beautiful, highly finished instrument, and we can sell them at three-fourths the price of a Chickering Piano, as we do not have to pay anything for their name or reputation. We still keep a full supply of the New and Improved Scale of Chickering & Son's Grand, Parlor Grand, and Square Pianos, and as we are Cash Dealers in them, we can sell them unusually low for cash. We have also several other makes of Pianos, all of which we warrant to give perfect satisfaction. We respectfully invite strangers visiting the city during the Fair, and all others in want of Pianos, to call and examine our complete stock, for we are selling exceedingly low for cash.

The testimony in its favor given by the most prominent and well-known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of any of his Agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

Me Lean's Volcanie Oil Liniment,

The best Liniment in the world for man or beast.

Another remarkable cure performed by McLean's Volcanie Oil Liniment. Read for yourselves:

Thomas Ford, a blacksmith, living near Cass avenue, on Tenth street, had a horrible running sore on his foot. He tried various Liniments, Salves, &c., but could do it no good. He despaired of eyer being able to work at his trade again, because he could not bear any weight on his foot; and by one small bottle of McLean's Volcanie Oil Liniment, he is now perfectly cared.

Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, bruises, sprains, stiffness in the joints or muscles, swellings, sore throat, earache or toothache, wounds, fresh cuts, sores, burns, scalds, pains, &c., yield to the 'magic' influence of this wonderful Liniment.

For Horses and Cattle it is an infallible remedy for chafes, gails, scratches, oracked heels, lameness, spavinsweny, splint, distula, bruises, swellings, wounds, rattle, snake bites, and various other diseases which animals are liable to from injuries or accidents.

Every Ocuntry Merchant should obtain a supply of McLean's Volcanie Oil Liniment. It seils rapidly, because it always cures.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skilful female physicians in

ROCHESTER, ---, Carrollton; UMPIRE No. 3, Cline, do. THE RIVER is unchanged and unvaried at the falls, not having risen or fallen any for two or three days, with some $2 inches water in the canal. The weather has been disagreeable, gloomy, wet, drizzling, rainy, dark, cloudy, dismal, foggy, and as uncomfortable as could be described or Private dispatches from Pittsburgh yesterday morning report the river rising, with over four feet water in the channel, with heavy rains the night previous, and a rise in the Allegheny. At Cincinnati the river was falling very slowly, with cool, cloudy weather. In reference to the western rivers we copy the following from the St. Louis Sunday paper:

following from the St. Louis Sunday paper:

The river at this point is falling steadily. There is sant seven feet in the channel to Cairo. The upper rivers are all falling. There is four and a half feet in the channel of the Illinois river, four feet on the upper and three feet on the lower Rapids in the upper Mississippl, and three and a half feet scant, and falling, in the Missouri from St. Joseph down. The weather continues cool and fine. Business continues dull.

Arrivals vesterday, were the A. B. Chambers, from the Missouri; Belfast and Heurletta, from the upper Mississippi; Brunette, from Chester; Hudson, from Cincinnati; Bon Accord, from Grafton; Hannibal City, from Keokuk; and Sam Gaty, from Peorfa.

and Sam Gaty, from Peoris. The Philadelphia, yesterday, went down to the docks The steamer Lake City, on last Wednesday, when a The steamer Lake City, on last Wednesday, when a short distance below Andalusla, on her way to St. Louis, broke her hog cha ns and sprung a leak. She returned to Rock island, and was put on the ways for repairs. The steamers Pianet, T. L. McGill, and James Montgomery, cleared for New Orleans, yesterday, with as much freight as they could carry on the water. The Council Bluff, Denmark, and Dew Drop, left for the upper Mississippi.

The signs of the weather indicate rain all quarters, and a good rise in the river fWe hope it may come, as trade and business just now is duller than we have yet noticed it this sea-son, and the boatmen yesterday found it a perfect blank, and will so record it. There was no freight of consequence shipped—not a pound to the South, nor a passenger started to that quarter, and the boats advertised have laid over till to-day.

One cause of the universal dullness in trade and shipments yesterday, was the indications of a rise, which caused shippers to hold back their freights. which caused shippers to hold back their freights, anticipating a rise, and a decline in the rates. The prevailing epidemic at New Orleans deters pasengers from traveling South until they hear of in abatement of the fever, or the appearance of rost. One good frost will drive yellow jack from he coast, and reanimate the South at once.

The Arkansas Traveler and Reliance were the only arrivals from below yesterday. They report navigation along the lower Ohio extremely diffi-cult, a host of boats aground, and less than thirty inches water on the shoalest bars.

To the attentions of the officers of the Arkansas
Traveler, from Cairo, we are indebted for a river

Thanks to Nick Vineyard, the clever clerk of the Rochester, from Carrollton, for a manifest. She is the mail line packet for Carrollton to-day. POLAND FOR CAIRO .- The neat and fleet packet Poland having been detained, takes her departure to Cairo and way points, to-day at 12 o'clock, from Portland. Capt. Gracey is a veteran boatman, and Mr. Frisbee Is an attentive and accomplished clerk, and we commend the boat to passen

Cardinal Byington, the old, reliable clerk of the Telegraph No. 3, of the mail line, has returned from his Eastern tour, and will be found in the office of the Hastings to-morrow.
The Potomac is advertised for Cairo and uphis this evening, in charge of Capt. Archer, a most accomplished and attentive boatman. She is the lightest passenger packet now in the trade, and will go through without delay. ALVIN ADAMS LAID UP .- The fleet Alvin Adams, which had been plying in the Memphis and Cairo trade, as a semi-weekly packet, has been compelled to lay up. The business was not sufficient to Capt. Lamb, the indefatigable captain of the Alvin Adams, was passenger home on the Potomac. The boat was laid up at Cairo. The Potomac took out to Cairo a large crowd of passengers, all of whom were much pleased with the management of Capt. The Potomac met her day at Shawneetown too late to connect with ANOTHER DISASTER—THE MAZEL DELL SUNK.—We learn from the officers of the Potomac, from Cairo, that the Hazel Dell in charge of Capt. Hollcroft, had sunk opposite the Hannted House, in the Ohio, just below Brandenburg. The accident occurred on Sunday night, about 11 o'clock, the boat striking the same log that recently sunk the R. M. Patton, and damaged two other hosts. boat striking the same log that recently sunk the R. M. Patton, and damaged two other boats.

The Hazel Dell was on her up trip from Owensboro, with a good number of passengers and much freight. The log or stump, penetrated the hull just about the forward hatch, the water on the shore side being but one foot over the log, She lies in a quartering position in the river, and appears to be twisted, the water on the lower side being over her guards, the stern inthe deepest water. The boat was much shattered by the collision, and sunk in half an hour. Cart Helleroft

Hollcroft went to work to build a bulk head, and thinks he The passengers of the Hazel Dell came here on the Reliance, and the Potomac brought up the freight, none of which was damaged, except a few bags of wheat. The Potomac was along side of the sunken boat some two hours, taking off her freight, and affording all the assistance possible

If a bulk head can be constructed, she can be pumped out and raised.

This is the third boat that has been impaled upon that log, and it is time it was removed, as it is right in the channel of the river, with its head only about a foot under water. The Rock City was sunk by the same snag. The Hazel Dell was nearly new, and had been chartered by Capt. Hollcroft. She belongs to Capt. Reese and Mr. Richardson, of Pittsburgh.

FOR OWENSBORO.—The fine packet Time has changed her destination, and goes to Owensboro and all way places this afternoon. She starts from the city wharf, in charge of Capt. Ed. Bernard, a clever boatman, with Mr. McVey in the The Time takes the place of the Hazell Dell. The Mariner is the mail boat for Cincinnati at 11 o'clock to-day. In the office will be found Mr. Dunning to attend to passengers.

FOR CARROLLTON.—The staunch Umpire is the adependent packet for Madison and Carrollton at 1 o'clock to-day. She is a good boat and a great accommodation to the people along the line.

Owing to the sickness South, the price of labor, as we have heretofore stated, is exorbi-tantly high, and the boats in the various packet lines below Memphis, find it hard work to get sides to her hull, preparatory to going into the Illinois river trade.

Thanks to R. J. Porter, clerk of the fleet packet Potomac, from Cairo, for a memorandum and manifest. She had a large freight, including the freight of the Hazel Dell, sunk at Haunted

From Capt. Archer, of the Potomac, we learn that the shoalest point along the river was at Pappy covet, sometive miles above Owensboro. There was barely two feet water on the bar, with five boats aground, and two flat boats. The Bowling Green was on the bar, and did not arrive

There is a peculiar interest attached to the Cable which you have bought—twenty miles of it were actually submerged in the ocean, and recovered, while through all of it the electric signals were being transmitted during the whole of the time occupied in laying the cable. Of course any quantity of cable can be manufactured in this country, but to few, if any of these, attaches the preculiar value which the cable purchased by you possesses, from the fact that they were part and parcel of the cable which is now actually laid.

Each piece will be accompanied with a copyrighted ac similie certificate of CYRUS W. FIELD, Esq.,

Orders will be received from dealers and others for not less than 100 pleces at a time, at $25 per hundred. Retall price 50 cents each.
The Cable will also be sold in the condition in which
